Comments

I mentioned last week I was reviewing comment policy on this blog.

I have done so. Please see the new policy, which is here.

I just reviewed a batch of comments. 80% failed the new tests. They were deleted.

Think of it like writing to a newspaper: no paper guarantees to publish your letter if you do so. I reserve that same editorial freedom.

It will still be quite easy to get comments on here: but they must meet these criteria.
