

There is a Plan B for the UK

---

I keep hearing calls for Plan B for the UK - that there is a need for an alternative economic strategy.

That is a strategy for growth.

A strategy for jobs.

An energy strategy.

An industrial policy.

A tax policy.

A debt reduction policy.

A plan to get round the stranglehold of banks in our economy on financing new enterprise.

I have offered such a plan.

It's a draft.

I will improve it. But it's already on the table.

Now would anyone (serious) like to debate it?
