

5.15am on Saturday

Published: January 13, 2026, 1:14 am

I love living in Norfolk. There's nothing on earth would take me back to living in London now.

But having to get up at 5.15am to get to the BBC to do Breakfast Television on a Saturday is a challenge.

Worth it though when the story is about Barclays, and their not being anything like the tax we could reasonably expect of them.