

Labour v Tory

---

I've just looked at my ballot paper for my local council election. I always have a postal vote.

It's a straight Tory v Labour fight.

No doubt the Lib Dems could not find a candidate.

No guessing which way I'm voting!

And although Norfolk South West normally weighs the Tory vote maybe, just maybe, knocking the Lib Dem out can change the scenario.

Especially as the Labour candidate looks very good and is a local mum.

I won't hold my breath - but I can hope.
