How prescient was this?

The decadent international but individualistic capitalism in the hands of which we found ourselves after the war is not a success. It is not intelligent. It is not beautiful. It is not just. It is not virtuous. And it doesn't deliver the goods. In short we dislike it, and we are beginning to despise it. But when we wonder what to put in its place, we are extremely perplexed.

The author?

J M Keynes.

It was published in National self-sufficiency (1933) Section 3, republished in Collected Writings Vol. 11 (1982).

And is still as relevant today.
