

Second month at number 1

Published: January 13, 2026, 5:44 am

The right wing blogosphere got very upset last month when this blog toppled Tim Worstall and became the number 1 economics blog in the UK.

Now Wikio tell me I kept the top spot in April.

No, it doesn't matter much in the overall scheme of things. But it's still amusing.

For the record, the new listing is:

1 Tax Research UK

2 Tim Worstall

3 The Adam Smith Institute Blog

4 BBC NEWS | Stephanomics

5 Money: Money blog | guardian.co.uk

6 Duncan's Economic Blog

7 Business: Market Forces blog | guardian.co.uk

8 British politics and policy at LSE

9 malcolm coles

10 Golem XIV - Thoughts

11 A Fistful of Euros

12 Jonathan Farrington's Blog

13 This is Money Blog

14 Roving Bandit

15 Joanne Dewberry

16 Banking Times: Daily Banking News

17 David Smith's EconomicsUK.com

18 BBC NEWS | Douglas Fraser's blog

19 The Edge

20 Geary Behaviour Centre
Ranking made by Wikio

Good to see Duncan Wheldon moving up a spot too. I strongly recommend following him.

PS I expect to lose top spot next month as in the blog upgrade it seems some archiving on Google was lost and traffic is down as a result.
