

Still there at #1

When a couple of months or so ago I first mentioned Wikio had listed this blog as #1 economics blog in the UK I thought it was a bit of fleeting fun.

Three months later they tell me I'm still there.

I'd make comparison to Adele if only she hadn't come out against paying tax (silly girl: how to alienate people who might buy your albums and encourage free-riding down loaders in one easy lesson).

Anyway, here's the list for May:
