I think a lot of people are frustrated that there's nothing they think they can do about tax cheats. Well now there is. 38 Degrees are sending this petition to David Cameron:

Dear David Cameron,

It's great to hear you say you want to clamp down on tax-dodging. Please back up your promise with real action to put a stop to the billions of pounds of tax that goes unpaid each year in the UK:

- * Bring in a strong general anti-avoidance principle to close tax loopholes and clamp down on all tax-dodging*
- * Put honest taxpayers and small businesses first - stop allowing those who can afford fancy lawyers to dodge their tax*
- * Make sure HMRC gets enough money and staff to properly enforce the law*
