

Unburnable carbon - the next financial crisis in the ma...

Published: January 13, 2026, 1:18 am

The Guardian had a great animation yesterday on the unburnable carbon that could now be inflating stock exchange values of a large range of quoted mining companies.

I share the view that this could be the next financial crisis in the making. The animation is available here (please don't click this image - I can't make it work!)