

Liechtenstein is looking for new opportunities for tax ...

Published: January 13, 2026, 6:17 am

The South China Morning Post has reported:

The Principality of Liechtenstein opened a consular office in Hong Kong last week as it seeks to boost business ties with the city and the mainland.

So, information exchange is making it harder for Liechtenstein to attract business and it is therefore looking for easier tax abuse opportunities elsewhere.

Leopards do not change their spots, but they do change the direction in which they point them.