

Is Labour taking some tentative steps towards the Coura...

Published: January 14, 2026, 2:28 am

---

I've now read Ed Miliband's speech today.

200,000 new houses.

Tackling market failure.

Dealing with failed privatised utilities.

Raising big business corporation tax.

Supporting those on minimum wage.

Addressing major environmental issues.

Are these all tentative steps towards if not a Courageous State then a least a more Courageous State?

I rather hope so.