The government published its consultation on country-by-country reporting as it relates to the Capital Requirements Directive on 20 September with a ridiculously short submission deadline of 18 October.

I have now submitted my response to the consultation, which is the first formal requirement for public country-by-country reporting in the UK. That submission can be found here. I take major issue with some of the government's quite illogical proposals.

If anyone would like to support this submission by emailing CBCRconsultation@hmtreasury.gsi.gov.uk please do.
