

Who benefits from benefits?

I don't like the term 'benefits'. It's patronising; the term social security is correct, in my opinion. So I use the term 'benefits' reluctantly, but as it works in the above title I'll use it for now.

And since the Institute for Fiscal Studies have provided an answer I'll use their data:

This is who benefits from benefits, lest we forget.

So where are the scroungers?
