I mentioned yesterday that I was to give the Salter lecture for the Quaker Socialist Society at the Quaker's Yearly Meeting in Bath last night.

I duly did, using the title 'Tax Justice: A Quaker's Concern', and over 400 Friends came to hear, to all of whom I am grateful.

What I said (pretty much, as I am not that good at sticking to scripts) is here. I admit it does assume a little understanding of some Quaker thinking, but not much.
