

Corporate tax avoidance is the number one issue in busi...

Published: January 13, 2026, 8:07 am

The Institute of Business Ethics has undertaken an annual public survey on this issue for the last 11 years. The latest survey was published this week and these are the issues that most concerned the UK public regarding business ethics:

That's the second year running tax avoidance has come top.

The full report is available here.