

Has anyone got suggestions on blogging software?

Published: January 13, 2026, 2:58 am

I wonder if I could ask for some advice? I have been doing some exploration of alternative blogging software for the Mac and iPad.

Blogging from a Mac on Wordpress has become very unreliable: for a long time I never lost a draft post, but recently I have, several times. That means alternative software that can be used offline and save drafts locally is needed. I do not have time to waste that way. So, what would people recommend?

The Wordpress app on the iPad has always been dire. I use Blogsy but it's a bit cumbersome. Are there any other suggestions for the iPad?

All comments from those using such software would be appreciated. Thanks, in anticipation.

PS This was written on Desk, which I am not yet sure about.
