

Oxfam was founded to relieve poverty in Greece. Surely ...

Published: January 13, 2026, 5:26 pm

A commentator on this blog this morning asked the question asked the practical question of how we might help Greece.

It reminded me of the intimate relationship between Greece and the history of Oxfam:

One third of Greeks now live in poverty as a result of an economic blockade of their country.

If the ECB does not lift the blockade that it's now enforcing what will we need to do to relieve poverty in that country?