Next Wednesday, in Cambridge

I am speaking at an event organised by Cambridge Young Greens and the Cambridge Green Party in the Saunders Room, Newnham College, Cambridge CB3 9DF next Wednesday, 11 February, at 7pm.

As the blurb says:

Richard is one of the leading figures developing the concept of a "Green New Deal" that is designed to power a renewables revolution, create thousands of green-collar jobs and rein in the distorting power of the finance sector (<http://www.greennewdealgrouop.org/>). In his talk he will use his expertise to analyse the state of the economy and suggest ways into a sustainable and just future.
