

Outstanding contribution? The jury's out

Published: January 13, 2026, 4:39 am

---

I have just been told I have been nominated for an award. This is the AccountingWEB Outstanding Contribution to Accounting Award, of which they say:

A brand new category for 2015, entries are not submitted for this award but instead the judges will confer the award on the individual they feel has made a significant contribution to the profession during their career to date.

The nominees are:

It's worrying all are male, but I had no influence on that.

I might have to take a night out in a penguin suit by the look of it.