I couldn't help but notice this opening paragraph to an article:

What is the link between the following political scandals? The Petrobras case in Brazil, the 1MDB affair in Malaysia, the unravelling of Fifa, the prosecution of a French minister and a party funding row in Spain. The answer is Swiss bank accounts.

Stone me: the FT's just noticed that some Swiss bank accounts may not have been used for wholly licit purposes.

Catch up chaps.
