Jeremy Corbyn took my Green Quantitative Easing and made it People's Quantitative Easing.

Now it looks like Owen Smith has taken the Green New Deal, of which I am a leading exponent and policy group member, and made it into the British New Deal with £200 billion of investment plans and energy and climate change at the heart of it.

This time I hope it might happen.

But that's for others to decide.
