

Brexit and dating

I was amused by an article in the FT this morning that says that Brexit has massively increased the importance of politics in people's dating profiles. We know, of course, because so much dating is now in the hands of professional and online match-makers.

I am not surprised. I think it must be very difficult to have a relationship with a Brexiteer if you are a Remainer.

And having a relationship with a Tory? Is that possible?

The divisions in opinion must be pretty much insurmountable.

I'll bear it in mind if ever I am on-line dating.
