As the FT reports this morning:

Councils in England are calling for the end of austerity, saying the UK government plans to slash their core funding 77 per cent. Between 2015 and 2020, the Revenue Support Grant will have shrunk 77p in the pound, the Local Government Association says.

And that is why fire safety is being compromised.

And social care is under funded.

And essential services are at risk.

It's all a matter of government choice.
