In the November 2017 Tax Justice Network Taxcast: the latest offshore scandal, the Paradise Papers with one of the journalists who got the scoop, Pulitzer prize winning Frederik Obermaier of Süddeutsche Zeitung and the International Consortium of Investigative Journalists. Plus:

- we interpret the enquiries to Jersey from offshore lawyers looking for a new tax haven for Apple (which they'd rather had remained secret...)
- we look at the anti-democratic processes the Paradise Papers uncover
- and we ask — what now for tax justice?

Featuring: Frederik Obermaier of Süddeutsche Zeitung and the International Consortium of Investigative Journalists, and John Christensen of the Tax Justice Network. Produced and presented by Naomi Fowler.

The Paradise Papers shows us that the problem is not one law firm like Mossack Fonseca but that the problem is the whole industry. It is important that we do not shy away from publishing because there is a very famous law firm on the other side threatening us to go to court."

Frederik Obermaier

The Paradise Papers shows a blue chip law firm which is really quite aggressive about its political machinations to shape the global tax haven economy."

John Christensen
