

If KPMG can't work out who can sign their audit reports...

Published: January 13, 2026, 5:25 am

This comes from the disciplinary pages of this months Economia magazine, reporting from the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales:

It would appear that KPMG isn't able to work out who can sign audit reports these days. In that case what chance is there that the report is right?

No wonder we need audit reform.