I am grateful to Prue Plumridge for sharing this video with me. It's from the event that gave rise to yesterday's editorial in Guardian on the Job Guarantee.

The event featured Dr Fadhel Kaboub and was chaired by Dr Sandy Hager from my own department and took place at City, University of London. Unfortunately, I could not be there as I was lecturing in Cambridge that evening, but given the significance the event has now acquired this is more than worth sharing:
