

Google scholar

Most academics in the world are listed on Google Scholar. I admit I have only just got round to getting myself listed. I was slightly surprised to find I have been cited 1,307 times and am the 25th most cited person on tax. It was good to see tax justice colleagues Prem Sikka and Alex Cobham beating me on that list.

But the real reason for posting this is to note that this is a relatively easy way to find quite a lot of what I have written.
