

Whither the ERG?

I recall the fear within Tory ranks of the Brexiteers.

And tales that the Brexiteers could bring a leader down.

So where are the European Research Group that has been led by so many who went on to become ex-Ministers over time? And Jacob Rees-Mogg.

There do not appear to be 48 Tory MPs who want to topple May.

I think it safe to say that in that case whilst her Brexit deal is not safe, it is not as detested as the Brexiteers would like anyone to believe, at least in parliament, and at least in Tory ranks.

But that begs the question of what then this was all about?
