For the umpteenth year (I think it goes back to about 2006, with maybe an off break on the way) I have appeared in this year's Accountancy Age 'Financial Power List'. This time I do so by the skin of my teeth, coming in at 50th out of 50. I happen to note I come in one place behind my old friend Prem Sikka:

I have to say that it does rather look like they put the troublemakers in at the bottom of the list. If so, I am in good company.
