

Funding the Future

Is the EU really going to put Blackrock - the arch purv...

Published: January 13, 2026, 2:27 am

I have not got time to unravel the true horrors of this story - and anyway, Professor Daniella Gabor has already done it really well. So I share her tweets from here:

Daniela Gabor @DanielaGabor

In mind-numbing non COVID events, European Commission is handing the keys to the green finance regulatory kingdom to Blackrock! and paying EUR 500k for it. h/t @Frank_vanlerven responsible-investor.com/articles/black...

7:58 PM · Apr 8, 2020 · Twitter Web App

194 Retweets 273 Likes

Daniela Gabor @DanielaGabor · 14h
Replying to @DanielaGabor
Blackrock will develop tools and mechanisms for integrating ESG into banking regulation. ESG is a private taxonomy for sustainable finance.

3 6 21

Daniela Gabor @DanielaGabor · 14h
for the past two years, European Commission has developed its own public taxonomy, with the purpose of ending greenwashing that happens via private ESG.

2 4 20

Daniela Gabor @DanielaGabor · 14h
this is not only a waste of European taxpayer resources, a mockery of the European Green Deal , but also a mockery of the anti-greenwashing discourse of the Commission. And I say mockery because Blackrock is the greatest greenwasher of all.

Daniela Gabor @DanielaGabor · Jan 15
mmuch for BlackRock to like in the European Green Deal:
1. No mandatory enforcement of EU taxonomy, so door open to greenwashing via ESG.
2. State subsidies for 'green' finance via derisking.
3. No regulation of brown finance.
Green Deal is in fact #WallStreetClimateConsensus
Show this thread

2 25 55

Daniela Gabor @DanielaGabor · 14h
and if you ask, in disbelief, like @jeuasommenulle if this is for real, yes it is ted.europa.eu/udl?uri=TED:NO...

Page 1/2

