I was pleased to note this tweet this morning:

The Tweet does, of course, refer to my commentary on the absurd LSE report in the costs of Scotland becoming independent yesterday.

Angus Brendan MacNeil is MP for the Western Isles and chair of the House of Commons International Trade Committee.

Michael Russell is President of the SNP and MSP for Argyll and Bute as well as Scottish Cabinet Secretary for Constitution, Europe and External Affairs.

Scottish politicians needs to reject nonsense when it is written about it. I am pleased to see them doing so.
