

When is a company bankrupt?

Published: January 16, 2026, 2:08 am

---

Throughout the history of accounting a company has generally been assumed to be bust when it can no longer pay its creditors. That can no longer be true though. A company now has to be considered bankrupt if it cannot undertake its trade and be net carbon neutral when doing so. In this video I explain why.

<https://youtu.be/ZK6sZ4ft5sg>