

A live stream?

Due entirely to an error on my part the blog post on my live Stream with Steven Keen and Friends appeared rather late on this site yesterday. All two hours of it are here.

The show was, apparently, quite popular. That gave rise to the question as to whether Richard Murphy and Friends might do a live stream. What are your thoughts having, preferably, watched a bit of this one? I suggest the second hour might give a better indication.
