

Funding the Future

Bursaries for accounting PhDs

Published: January 13, 2026, 6:39 pm

My daily email from the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales included this little attention grabber this morning:

Doctoral funding available

Bursaries available for PhD or other doctoral studies
from the Chartered Accountants' Livery Charity.

I followed the link and found this:

Our PhD Bursary Awards

The Livery and the ICAEW both recognise the importance of the contribution that Institute members can make to the academic world, both in teaching and research. To encourage and support ICAEW-qualified Chartered Accountants in pursuing an academic career, our Charity provides bursaries to members undertaking a PhD or other Doctoral studies in accounting-related topics.

Page 1/2

These annual bursaries are typically set at about £5,000 and are renewable for a period of up to four years, subject to

I don't want to dismiss the significance of anything the Chartered Accountant's Livery Company is doing, but I would just point out that the Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales picked up £14.9 million in fines from its members who had done substandard work last year but they're not offering to use that for this purpose of advancing education in accounting.

I might have more to say about this, soon.

Meanwhile, if you know someone who might qualify, please tell them.