

Central bank digital currency, anyone?

Published: January 15, 2026, 12:47 pm

---

I am taking part in a discussion on central bank digital currencies (CBDC) this evening.

The event brings together these speakers 6pm on Zoom:

- Brett Scott, Author of Cloundmoney & Economic Explorer
- Danny Kruger, of the Treasury Select Committee (responsible for scrutinising the project)
- Abdul Jabbar, Associate Professor Data Strategy and Analytics, University of Leicester
- Richard Murphy

If you've not yet sent your response to the Bank of England consultation (deadline a week from now) this is an ideal opportunity to delve deeper.

The event can still be booked, here.

I believe a recording will be available afterwards.

I will be expressing my concerns about the apparent lack of awareness amongst those proposing the CBDC of its likely impact on the macroeconomic environment.
