This!

Here in Germany, it's 1,500-2,000 (!) excess deaths per week.

2023 is the deadliest year of the pandemic so far.

AND it's totally being ignored by politicians, the media, so-called ph "experts".

It's Orwellian dystopia.

So, we are living through a staggering public health crisis where exceptional numbers of people are dying whilst many more are routinely suffering with a quite serious illness and we are told to just pretend otherwise.

If the first job of a government is to protect its population then ours is very clearly failing.

Why have they chosen to do that? Why do most people acquiesce?
