

ULEZ? Right or wrong?

Keir Starmer and the Labour Party have prevaricated to appease the far-right media on London's ULEZ (ultra low emission zone) even though it is intended to save at least 4,000 lives a year.

The Tories are attacking the scheme even though it was a Boris Johnson creation and they are funding similar schemes in places like Birmingham and Portsmouth.

Sadiq Khan has extended the scheme anyway, rightly in my opinion.

But what do you think?
