I did a quick search on what I thought to be key words in the OBR report yesterday.

The results were:

- * Austerity - none
- * Fiscal - 226
- * Fiscal rule - 5
- * Climate - 4 (two referring to the climate levy)
- * Poverty - none
- * Inequality - none
- * Disability - 36
- * Disability benefits - 21
- * Work - 121
- * Green - 32, of which 24 refer to a Green Paper
- * Interest - 145
- * Growth - 277
- * Chancellor - 12
- * GDP - 454

So, this was a growth-obsessed report, with a decided monetary focus that ignored inequality and the impact of decisions on those on low incomes and the planet.

I think that says all we need to know.
