

Funding the Future

Thanks, YouTube

We passed 100,000 YouTube subscribers in early January this year.

Yesterday, the plaque to mark this arrived. It had taken that long, we were told, to make sure our claim was valid. The normal time period for validating a claim is 10 days, I gather. I could get paranoid about that, or I could accept that something went wrong.

Anyway, here it is, and since most YouTubers treat these palques as a 'big thing', so will I.

We now have 214,000 subscribers. You don't get another plaque until you hit 1 million subscribers.
