I was at Welney, drinking coffee, watching waders, having discussions and generally relaxing.

I deliberately did not take a complex camera with me. My iPhone (admittedly with a Fjorden grip, which is a Leica product) did the job.

The view from coffee:

I can't resist such shots:

And a reminder that autumn is on its way. The swallows are already gathering, maybe with that journey southward in their minds:
