

The Scottish Currency Group conference

Published: January 13, 2026, 1:17 am

I'll be speaking (remotely) at the Scottish Currency Group conference this weekend:

You can also attend remotely.

Tickets are available here.

And this should be of interest to people way beyond Scotland because the Group, which is heavily MMT-influenced, is looking at how to build an economy free from the influences of London and the City, and many people are interested in that.