

The Top 250 Blogpost List

There is a new page on this blog today.

You can find it from the main menu. That has got three lines on it, top right from what you are reading now.

It is called 'Top 250 Posts'.

The list has been based on the more than 500,000 likes on blog posts posted by you, the readers.

We prepared this in response to the request that we prepare a 'best of' book of blog posts, but I then thought it was worth posting it in its own right as a highlighted reading list.

We're still thinking of doing a 'best of' collection as a download, as we have been asked to do, and that will require a lot of judgement to be exercised.

However, if you would like to indicate your own top 10 (or so) from this list, please do. Give us the post number in the list, and the blog title, and we will definitely take note.
