

Yesterday on Radio 2

This video is a little unusual. It is a recording of what I said on the Jeremy Vine Show on BBC Radio 2 yesterday.

We've knocked out the musical interruptions, of course.

We have not knocked out Mark Littlewood, formerly of the Institute of Economic Affairs, and now one of Liz Truss's best mates. He is my regular sparring partner for these gigs.

Constructive criticism would be welcome.

There is no transcript: this is too long for that.
