The accounts for Tax Research LLP, which publishes this blog and the RichardJMurphy YouTube channel, for the year to 31 March 2025, are now available on the Companies House website.

The disclosure goes far beyond what is required by law: I believe in accountability. In fact, I suspect this is one of the most comprehensive disclosures by a small business in the UK.

And why were there funds in the partnership at the year-end? Because a) we'd invested a lot and b) we wanted to ensure funding was available for the future at the time I retired from employment. We hope to keep this show on the road for as long as possible.
