

The Cambridge event

Published: February 7, 2026, 7:25 am

I was told last night that the tickets for our event in Cambridge are sold out.

We are now seeing whether we can expand capacity a bit, maybe by adding a side room so people have more space to calculate during breaks, but at least for now, we think we are at our comfortable limit.

If anyone who has booked and knows they are not coming, please let us know. We will happily give a refund and resell the ticket.

Thanks to all who have booked. We do appreciate it.
